DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1 – 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Specifically, there appears to be no support in the specification for “a plurality of connectors”, “a first connector” or “a second connector”. Are connectors the pins? If so, there is still no support for such in the specification. That is, a plurality of pins or a first pin or a second pin. All claim language should be consistent with, and find support in, the Detailed Description of the Invention section of the Specification.

In addition, please point out in the drawings where “a plurality of connectors”, “a first connector” or “a second connector” can be found.

This is not meant to be an exhaustive list, but merely examples of the types of problems found in the present application.

Because of the continued problems with the Specification a proper search cannot be conducted at this time.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
